

Alexandra Venters Does It Again

Alexandra successfully defended a Montgomery County intersectional collision claim with significant property damage and stipulated negligence. One of the primary focus points of the trial was the $2.3+ million in future medical bills and treatment. During the course of trial, the Court ruled that the defense was precluded from disputing the reasonableness and necessity of future care and projected costs. In addition, plaintiff's pain doctor testified live, along with live testimony from a Life Care Planner, recommending a repeat spinal cord stimulator implant, or pain pump and fusion extension surgeries if the stimulator failed. After just 18 minutes, a unanimous jury found that the plaintiff did not prove causation of alleged injuries to the accident and ultimately found in favor of the Defendant.

PALMER & BARR