WHAT IF I MOVE TO ANOTHER STATE?

- 1- Estate planning is state-based law
- 2- Moving more than ever
- 3- Buying a “test property” or vacation property out of state to see if they want to retire there
- 4- FL very different rules – probate is lengthy, expensive, difficult – everyone in FL does Revocable Living Trusts
- 5- Avoid Ancillary Probate (FL/NY)
- 6- Some states have POD deeds (NY/Maine), or we use Revocable Living Trusts to hold out-of-state property
- 7- When fully moving to a new state (FL), redo your estate plan there (new domicile)
