- 1. Role of Dispatcher. Dispatcher acts only as Carrier's agent and independent contractor. Dispatcher is not a motor carrier or a broker, does not take possession of freight, and does not contract with shippers as a principal. Carrier hauls all freight under its own operating authority.
- 2. Services. Dispatcher will search load boards and broker contacts, negotiate rates, present load offers, send rate confirmations for Carrier's approval, plan routes, handle check calls and after-hours support, and, if Carrier asks, prepare invoices and paperwork.
- 3. Carrier approval. Dispatcher will not accept a load for Carrier without Carrier's approval by call, text or email. Carrier may decline any load.
- 4. Fee. Carrier pays Dispatcher 8% of the gross line-haul revenue on each load Dispatcher books. Gross line-haul revenue includes fuel surcharge, detention and layover pay, and truck-ordered-not-used pay. It excludes lumper fees, tolls and other reimbursed expenses. There are no other fees.

5. Payment. Dispatcher invoices its fee weekly. Carrier pays within 7 days after Carrier is paid for the load, by [ACH / Zelle / check]. Brokers, shippers or Carrier's factoring company pay Carrier directly. Dispatcher does not collect freight payments unless Carrier agrees in writing.
6. Carrier duties. Carrier will keep its operating authority, insurance and registrations active and meet each broker's and shipper's insurance requirements. Carrier will operate safely, follow hours-of-service rules, give Dispatcher accurate documents and information, and answer load offers promptly. Carrier alone is responsible for its drivers, equipment and freight.
7. Term and cancellation. This agreement runs month to month. Either party may end it with 7 days' written notice (email counts). Fees on loads booked before the end date remain due.
8. Liability. Dispatcher is not responsible for cargo loss or damage, delays, accidents, fines, or the acts of brokers, shippers or drivers. Carrier will defend and reimburse Dispatcher for claims arising from Carrier's operations. Dispatcher's total liability under this agreement is limited to the fees Carrier paid in the previous 30 days.
9. Confidentiality. Each party keeps the other's business information and rates private, except as needed to book loads.
10. General terms. The laws of the State govern this agreement. The parties will try to resolve any dispute in good faith before filing suit. This is the entire agreement, and changes must be in writing. Electronic signatures and copies are valid.
