

Kingsdale Advisors Announces Himesh Ghai as Executive Vice President

Toronto, March 9, 2021 – Kingsdale Advisors is pleased to announce the appointment of Himesh Ghai as Executive Vice President. Himesh is a seasoned business and legal strategist with more than 15 years of experience in M&A transactions and securities matters across multiple industries. He joins Kingsdale Advisors from MDA (MacDonald, Dettwiler & Associates Inc.) where he was responsible for all legal and regulatory matters, and oversaw strategic corporate and commercial transactions. In his new role, Himesh will help position companies for success by designing focused strategies that address complex shareholder, governance, and transaction related matters.

“Kingsdale Advisors is the preeminent shareholder advisory firm and Himesh will play a critical role in continuing our position as the most trusted advisor to boards and management,” said Wes Hall, Founder and Executive Chairman, Kingsdale Advisors. “A key factor in driving performance and delivering results for our clients is having team members who bring diversity in thought and personal and professional experience. Himesh’s knowledge of the capital markets, corporate governance, business law, corporate finance, and M&A, combined with his focus on exemplary client service, will help continue to advance Kingsdale’s unparalleled track record of success.”

“We’re excited to welcome Himesh to Kingsdale Advisors,” said Amy Freedman, Chief Executive Officer, Kingsdale Advisors. “He is a dynamic leader and a strong addition to our multidisciplinary team. I know our clients will benefit greatly from his extensive experience in corporate law, business and finance.”

Himesh holds an LL.B. and MBA from the University of Western Ontario, and a Master of Science and Bachelor of Science from the University of Toronto.
