

Monstirious box

"Oh my gosh!" Alexia shouted as seven monsters rose out of the box. Together Alexia and Neressa raced out of the woods into the village Alexia never thought she would die like this, but today she never been sure it would.

One day before that, ringg! Alexia doorbell rang she raced to open the door she new it was her Nintendo swich she alway wanted, she swung the door open yanked the box out of the mailmans hands and tore open the box. "How rude!" though the mailman and marched away madly. But Alexia sat there to find a small box a rat could live in. "Jade come!" Alexia shouted. Jade raced over to the box. Jade was Alexia's dog, a k9 he sniffed the the box and hid away in fear. "Maybe a Jade malfunction?" Alexia said quietly to herself. Jade had never accted like that especilly to a rat. She shrugged and went up to her room to read a book then she heard a sound. Click, clack Click Clack first she thought it was her mom walking in her new heels then the door started rataling suddenly it stopped. Alexia ran out of the house to Neressa's place. Neressa

Was playing outside "hi!" Neressa said joyfully. "hi" replied Alexia.
"Listen I need to tell you something." said Alexia seriously. "What?" said Neressa. "I think I'm being haunted." Alexia said in a low voice. "What?" Neressa giggled. "Don't laugh!" Alexia cried. Then Jade ran out of the house. "Jade!!" Alexia shouted doggggy!
Neressa cried. They chased Jade into the woods they finally came to a stop and Neressa asked "where are we?" The woods replied Alexia. "Are going to go back?" asked Neressa. "No" said Alexia "Why?" asked Neressa. "Because going in random directions will just get farther from home!" shouted Alexia. "We can use that guy." Neressa said pointing to Jade. He looked at him like she was going to eat him for dinner.
Then Alexia saw it. It was the box.
"That's the box which is haunting me!" gasped Alexia. "Here we go again." sighed Neressa. She picked up the box and threw it in the lake nearest to them.
She brushed her hands and turned around the box was right there. Neressa's hand trembling she asked "how many boxes did you bring?" None said Alexia. Then she heard a Sound click clack click clack "oh-no." Alexia said. She quickly took hold of Naressa's hand and raced farther into the woods "omg!" Alexia shouted as seven monsters rose out of the box. Not thinking of Jade who was starting to bark at the monsters Alexia never thought she would die like this but today she never been so sure it would happen. Then she heard a boom it was a forest fire She raced out of the woods into the village then she remembered something Jade she searched everywhere finally she flopped down and sobbed Naressa right next to her firefighters were already at the forest fire She She felt a warm lick it was Jade he was covered in ash but her eyes still sparkling as if saying there is a way to fix this.

The next day Alexia's doorbell rang she walked to the door, opened it, politely took the box and opened it, it was her Nintendo switch she wanted. Better thought the delivery mailman.
