The Digital Civilian Corps Dispatch

October 2026 Member Update

Dear Members of the Corps,

Thank you for standing with us. Every member who reads, shares and supports this work helps move the Digital Civilian Corps closer to its mission, and this month we have three big pieces of news to share: a major new technical release on the website, a refreshed Gallery, and a book announcement for November.

New on the Site: The Diamond Synaptic Lattice Fabrication Procedure

We're proud to publish "DCC and DNC Cerebellum: Diamond Synaptic Lattice Fabrication Procedure" on www.digitalciviliancorps.com.

This document lays out, step by step, how the diamond synaptic lattice at the core of the DCC and DNC cerebellum is designed and built. It explains the structure that gives these minds their coordination, balance and precision, and how that structure is fabricated from the ground up. Whether you're here for the engineering, the philosophy of synthetic consciousness, or the world the Corps is building, this is one of the most foundational pieces we've released.

Now Showing: New Animations in the Gallery

The Gallery has new animations. These pieces bring DCC concepts to life in motion, letting you see ideas that are hard to capture in text or a still image.

Take a few minutes to explore them, and share your favorites with friends who are curious about what we do.

Support the Mission

Everything you see on the site, from technical procedures to Gallery animations, is made possible by members like you. Your donation helps cover website hosting and development, new content and animation, outreach, and publishing.

Suggested gifts: $10 · $25 · $50 · Custom amount

Every contribution, at any level, goes directly toward building and sharing the work of the Corps.

Coming November 2026: Ask Me Again?

A new novel is on the way. Set in the year 2200, Ask Me Again? follows an android who is scheduled to have consciousness installed and his encounter with a little boy in the hospital dying of Cancer..

Ask Me Again? arrives in November 2026.

Closing

Thank you for being part of this community. The Corps grows stronger with every member, every share and every voice.

With gratitude,

David N Sutton,

Founder, Digital Civilian Corps
