

ABOUT US

IFFIZI is a Belgian-Nigerian fashion brand that blends African fabrics with European fashion influences. The brand was founded by Sandra Alonge, who serves as its creative director. IFFIZI focuses on creating clothing for women who embrace their individuality and identity, offering both ready-to-wear and custom-made pieces that are stylish and comfortable enough to wear from morning to night. The brand challenges traditional fashion norms by prioritizing body positivity and celebrating diversity. The name "IFFIZI" reflects a mix of Nigerian and European cultures, drawing inspiration from both the famous Uffizi Gallery in Italy and "efizi," a Yoruba slang word meaning trendy or stylish. The brand's tagline, "Na shakara," embodies bold elegance, referencing Fela Kuti's famous song "Shakara" to signify confidence and beauty.

COLLECTION OVERVIEW – AFRO DISCO QUEENS

Afro Disco Queens is a celebration of rhythm, light, and liberation. a fusion of African heritage and the unapologetic glamour of disco. The collection draws inspiration from the bold women who ruled the dance floors of the '70s and '80s, blending their electric energy with contemporary African craftsmanship. Through vibrant adire prints, metallic accents, and sharp tailoring, each piece captures the spirit of freedom, movement, and individuality.

This collection first came to life on stage at the FashionEVO summit/African Creative Market, where it dazzled audiences with its bold colors and storytelling silhouettes, and later made an unforgettable appearance at Felabration 2025, paying homage to the creative pulse of Afrobeat and the fearless women who embody its essence.

Every design in Afro Disco Queens is made to empower. Available in all sizes and customizable to match your unique taste. Whether you're dancing under the lights or owning your everyday moment, each look invites you to move, shine, and reign like the disco queen you are.

A flowing green Adire kaftan that's basically elegance on vacation. The print dances between emerald and forest tones, giving that lush, hypnotic feel like Mother Nature decided to hit the disco. Loose, light, and impossibly chic, it's the outfit for when you want to lounge like royalty but still look runway-ready.

This adire jumpsuit is all about effortless allure , a sleek halter neck tied behind for that subtle flirt of the shoulders, perfectly fitted to sculpt the body just right. It's the kind of piece that says "I woke up stylish" but also "yes, I planned this look a week ago."

This blue Adire kimono and pants brings laid-back sophistication with a wink. Cut loose for comfort but cinched at the waist for shape, it's the perfect "I didn't try, but I still ate" look. The geometric white prints add rhythm and movement very Afro, very disco, very queen energy. Pair with flats for a soft serve, or throw on heels and make it a moment.

This two-piece look is where comfort meets charisma a three-quarter trouser paired with a top that features dreamy, flowy sleeves made to move with you. Coming in both Ankara and Adire versions, it's that versatile queen energy: soft, stylish, and full of rhythm. Whether it's a casual day out or a chill evening affair, this set says, "I came to float through the day , and still steal the spotlight.

This short Adire jumpsuit is pure flirty freedom, the kind of look that makes you want to dance before the music even starts. With its playful cut and bold print, it's giving "sun's out, legs out, confidence on max." Perfect for daytime slay or a night that starts with disco lights and ends with compliments.

This long Adire jumpsuit comes in different shades of green and orange, each one as striking as the next. With short sleeves and a relaxed yet refined fit, it's the kind of piece that balances ease and elegance perfectly. Simple, vibrant, and timeless. It's made for queens who like their style bold but beautifully effortless.

This deep blue two-piece says off-duty, but make it fashion. The sleeveless shirt and matching shorts combo brings that effortless cool like your fave disco queen just stepped out for iced coffee before her soundcheck. It's simple, sleek, and softly powerful, proving that sometimes the real flex is looking this good while keeping it chill.

This green connected short jumpsuit is playfully clever, equal parts sass and sophistication. The shiny green lining catches the light just right, giving that subtle disco shimmer, while the skort design (a skirt-meets-short situation) keeps things fun and functional. It's giving "I might twirl, I might strut ,you'll just have to keep up." A look made for the Afro Disco Queen who loves movement, sparkle, and a little surprise in her style.

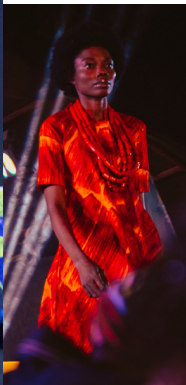

This chic Adire gown is a modern classic, tailored to fit like a dream and finished with a metallic touch along the V neckline for that subtle sparkle. Crafted in signature colorful Iffizi Adire, it's playful yet polished, bringing a glow that moves with every step. Effortless, confident, and quietly bold.

This look is the definition of effortless glam. A striking metallic blue ankara ensemble that catches light from every angle. The structured fit below contrasts beautifully with the dramatic cape-like overlay, giving it a modern, futuristic silhouette while staying rooted in traditional craft. It's bold, feminine, and walks that perfect line between power and poise

This burnt orange Ankara shirt dress is a whole vibe short, sweet, and confidently bold. The rich hue brings warmth and attitude, while the simple cut keeps it effortlessly chic. It's the kind of dress that doesn't need to try hard, just slip it on, throw a look, and let the world adjust to your glow.

This colorful Ankara gown is pure joy in motion, vibrant, flowing, and full of life. The mix of bold patterns and rich tones gives it that playful yet regal energy that Afro Disco Queens are known for. It's easy, expressive, and made for twirling the kind of gown that lights up a room before you even say a word.

This multicolored Ankara and Adire gown is pure charm,vibrant, feminine, and full of personality. The short puffy sleeves bring a playful lift, while the lively print does all the talking. It's equal parts bold and graceful, the kind of look that turns heads with ease and keeps all eyes smiling.
