

Present your science and technology to leading clinicians, companies, investors and innovators who are working together on the next generation of amputation prevention solutions.

Your scientific presentations are made as part of platform sessions to attendees that include general practitioners, wound care and vascular specialists, surgeons, podiatrists, nurses, academic researchers, industry R&D and business development professionals, biotech and medtech investors.

All sponsors are recognized on the conference platform and name/logo are printed on all event materials and displays.

Technology Showcase Opportunity Only

Showcasing your technology at WHSI is a great opportunity to engage with conference attendees. Your technology receives the attention of key opinion leaders and an inherently interested audience. Please note that all sponsorship packages include the Technology Showcase opportunity.

Representatives will present their technology at the podium directly to an in-person and livestreaming audience, thereby with significant visibility.

Investment $3,500
